

Eighth Army Korean Service Corps Battalion shares love with neighbors

(Story and photos courtesy of Ajukyungjae News, Translated)

The members of Eighth Army Korean Service Corps' Eighth Battalion shares love with its neighbors through its "Good Neighbor Program" with donations gathered from a united effort.

According to Dongducheon City, the members of KSC "Good Neighbor Program," composed of 135, collected contributions worth 2,000 won by themselves every month and perform voluntary service semiannually.

The members personally delivered 300 pieces of briquettes and eight sacks of rice (10kg) to the homes suffering from flood damage in July.

The members also invited 50 older people and served chicken rice porridge in Saengyeon-dong, Dongducheon City on November 3. In addition, they performed voluntary service by means of visiting the houses of older people living alone doing repairs on the houses and their restrooms and roofs.

"The joy doubled as the members personally participated and delivered briquettes that enabled them to also deliver the hope to the neighbors. We will continue to perform voluntary service in local community," Park Tae-geun, 2nd KSC Company Commander said.